This is done so all Student Residents can live together in an orderly and hygienic environment.

This does not apply to bedrooms but Student Residents are expected to maintain reasonable hygiene and cleanliness in their rooms. Shared bedrooms are expected to apply a similar principle themselves and, should the need arise, ULearn reserves the right to draw up similar rosters for bedroom spaces.

While generally notice may be provided, resident Student Residents should be aware that these are semi-serviced apartments and ULearn reserves the right to enter all areas of the apartments without further notice. Equally Student Residents should bear in mind that ULearn operates 24 hour closed circuit cameras on site which monitor and record activity both for security and policy enforcement purposes. Please note that linen is provided & fitted prior to your arrival but towels are not.
General inspections include but not limited to:

1. Checking that bedrooms are acceptably clean and are being maintained.

Anyone asked to leave under such circumstances will forfeit their deposit and fees.

FAIR USE & ECO SURCHARGE

Electricity

ULearn operates a Fair Use policy calibrated over several years of use and assigns a kilowatt hour figure per apartment per student. That figure is multiplied by the number of residents in situ that week. The kWh figure is noted weekly and students will be informed if the figure exceeds “fair use”. In that case the cost of the excess is divided by the residents in the apartment that week. Your credit cards are on file and will be a charged that fee. While generally students may be notified upon your agreement to this contract of residence ULearn reserves the right to charge your card without further notice. ULearn reserves the right to alter and adjust this policy based on changes in residential and commercial energy costs.

With the above in mind we therefore request all students to make all reasonable efforts to reduce energy consumption by switching off all lights and appliances when not in use and only using the minimum required.

Drying racks are provided for students to dry their clothes. Generally speaking there is no requirement for Student Residents to use an electric drier to dry clothes.

Heating

Students are not permitted to use electrical, gas or naked flame heating appliances in their rooms or any of the apartments interior or exterior spaces. They are likewise forbidden from interefering with the heating system controls which is set by management in accordance with the policy of Fair Use. ULearn apartments have automated thermostatically controlled central heating systems which are programmed to provide heating and hot water for students actively attending our courses. ULearn Student Residents are expected to be in class during their stay and our energy use policy is geared specifically to that activity.

Hot Water

Hot Water for showers, personal hygiene and kitchen washing up is also calibrated for reasonable and fair use across the number of Student Residents in occupancy. In order that there is enough hot water for all Student Residents are expected to use their fair share. A standard 5 to 7 minute shower will ensure that all students have hot water in the morning / evening time when users will avail of it. If residents use more than this other tenants may find that there is not sufficient hot water to shower. Please adhere to this reasonable and fair use and be aware of the needs of those you are sharing the accommodation with.
